People See Times Getting Better

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — "Last night I spent three hours in a saloon and I know the bartender undercharged me, so there is no question things are getting better."

It was entertainer Frank Sinatra, the optimist — but to a point. "On the other hand," Sinatra offered, "when I woke up this morning, I realized I owned the saloon, so they might be getting worse, too."

The verdict was a narrow one, but more than half the dozen famous Americans polled by the Yale Daily News magazine agreed — most of them, like Sinatra, with reservations — that things are getting better.

Take John Chancellor, anchorman for NBC's Nightly News. Some things are getting worse, Chancellor said, because "the Russians are still building nukes and a third of the world is hungry...."

But, said Chancellor, "There is no war, we got through Watergate without national trauma, we've got the most free press in the world, make the best martinis, produce musicals like 'A Chorus Line,' write and read some pretty good books, and a lot of us are pretty okay people. So, stay on your toes."

Or New York's Mayor Abraham Beame. Certain things are getting worse, he said, "because we are at the start of one of history's transition periods from a time of abundance to a time of dwindling resources."

But, added Beame, "we are starting to fulfill (the) need ... for eliminating the habits of extravagance, as well as the waste of physical resources and human talent."

Mexico Reports Big Oil Reserves

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican government says its new oil fields in the southern states of Tabasco and Chiapas have boosted its estimate of the country's petroleum reserves to between 30 and 60 billion barrels, three to six times that of Alaska's North Slope.

Francisco Javier Alejo, the secretary of natural resources, told a news conference Tuesday Mexico's proven reserves are now 7 billion barrels, an increase of 1 billion since March.

"We have just begun to explore," he said. "We believe 90 to 95 per cent of the national territory is capable of producing hydrocarbons of one type or another."

ROUNDTOWN

CITY service department crews will pickup curbside trash in the area from Hargus Creek to the north corporation limit Thursday.

A TOLL-free number will soon be installed so that Pickaway County pilots flying out of Memorial Airport or Clark's Dreamstrip may receive a required weather advisory before take off ...

In the past, local pilots have had to make a toll call to get this required information.

A REMINDER that the Pickaway County Bicentennial Ball will be held 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday ... Costume dress is optional.

The magazine, for this month's edition, questioned 12 of what it called "the world's most interesting people." The dozen included Beame and Boston Mayor Kevin H. White as well as journalists, writers, television personalities and entertainers.

Writers Tom Wolfe and Henry Miller and musicians Glenn Campbell and Lawrence Welk suggested things are getting better. Poet Allen Ginsburg said things are unchanging and "space itself is immovable." And author Philip Roth said he had "absolutely nothing to say."

Others were less than optimistic about the future.

"Last year I kept my job by saying things were getting better," said White, who is weathering racial violence and a long-running dispute over school busing in his city. "This year I can admit that things are getting worse."

Walter Cronkite, Chancellor's counterpart at CBS, wrote that one of the reasons things are getting worse is that "the most interesting persons are spending so much time answering various polls and inquiries." To avoid being "churlish," Cronkite added, "The trouble is that unimaginative and possibly venal governments seem unable to muster the innovative leadership to make use of the solutions propounded."

New York Times columnist Russell Baker had this comment for the pollsters, "As I understand it, the Yale Daily News is trying to bill me for a 20-word article, free of charge, through the transparent con of naming me a 'Most Interesting Person.' Things are getting better, but not at Yale."

Alejo added that the Gulf of Mexico also promises to be a source of oil for Mexico as well as for the United States.

A year ago Alejo said foreign speculation that the new southern fields contained 20 billion barrels in reserves were "irresponsible."

The minister also announced that the government plans to join the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) as soon as it is invited.

The big new estimate of oil reserves and the overture to OPEC constituted a major change in Mexican oil policy. Mexico repeatedly refused to join the oil cartel, and President Luis Echeverria criticized OPEC members for not spending more of their oil earnings in other underdeveloped nations.

Some observers suggested the government wants to increase its oil exports because of its $18 billion foreign debt and $3.6 billion foreign trade deficit.

Since last year, Mexico has been exporting 113,000 barrels of crude oil and other petroleum products a day, making it the third largest Latin American oil exporter after Venezuela and Ecuador.

Alejo said the daily rate of exports should double this year, bringing in at least $2.4 million a day.

The United States buys most of Mexico's exported crude oil, paying $12.30 to $12.40 a barrel. Since the price has been pegged to OPEC's, membership in the oil cartel is not likely to have a special effect on it.

Reagan, Carter Big Winners In Primaries

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

Ronald Reagan has seized star billing in the Republican presidential contest, and President Ford, suddenly second, may have to rewrite his campaign script.

But there are likely to be new twists in the GOP plot before it is played out this summer. There are, after all, 16 Republican presidential primaries to go. And there could be new faces in the campaign cast before convention time.

Nonetheless, Reagan has for the first time established himself as a challenger who can convince the Republican hierarchy that he has a real chance of denying nomination to an incumbent president.

Even Ford's campaign manager had to acknowledge that Reagan had the advantage after making the President a three-time loser on a single primary election day.

It was evident in the numbers that made Reagan for the first time the leader in committed Republican nominating delegates and, perhaps as important, in the momentum and credibility the conservative challenger gained with two Southern victories and an unexpected triumph in Indiana.

Jimmy Carter, the dominant Democrat, won overwhelmingly in Indiana and in his Georgia home. He led in partial returns in the District of Columbia.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace won his home-state primary, too. Wallace offered testament to Carter's claim that as the likely nominee he can rally Democrats around him. "I could support him," Wallace said.

While Carter was speeding his bandwagon among Democrats, Reagan was cementing a remarkable comeback by gaining 51 per cent of the Indiana vote to defeat Ford by about 15,000 ballots.

The former California governor once was on the verge of elimination as a presidential candidate, with money running short after a succession of early primary election defeats by Ford. He held on and turned it around — for a second time.

Ford's allies thought they had finished Reagan in the early primaries, but he upset the President in the North Carolina primary on March 23, gained strength in Southern and Southwestern GOP state conventions, and scored a remarkable, 96-delegate sweep over Ford in Texas on Saturday.

Grain Sales To Russia Up Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is trying to assess the current round of Soviet grain purchases in hopes of determining how much more U.S. wheat and corn Russia may buy this spring.

The spate of purchases the past week totaled more than 4.9 million metric tons by Tuesday night. Officials said they are now attempting to figure out how much more Russia may buy, particularly grain from existing U.S. supplies.

An additional sale of 625,000 tons was announced late Tuesday, including 300,000 tons of corn from last year's crop and 200,000 tons of corn and 125,000 tons of wheat from 1976 production. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Although the department did not announce the seller, a spokesman said he understood it was Louis Dreyfus Corp. of New York.

About 4.3 million tons of grain was sold the Soviets last week by three other firms: Continental Grain Co. of New York, Cargill Inc. of Minneapolis and Cook Industries of Memphis.

The sale Tuesday boosted to 16.5 million tons the quantity of grain Russia has bought from 1975 U.S. crops. The administration last fall set a tentative limit of 17 million tons for sale to the Soviets from the 1975 harvest.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says he would welcome Russia buying more than 17 million tons and that current U.S. reserves are large enough to absorb further sales without undue effect on consumer food prices.

Weather

Mostly sunny, breezy and warmer today with a high in the upper 70s. Partly cloudy with a chance of thundershowers tonight and Thursday. Low tonight in the 50s with a high Thursday near 70. Chances of precipitation, 20 per cent today, 50 per cent tonight and 70 per cent Thursday. High Tuesday was 62 with a low during the night of 47.

Now it is the President who is skidding, although a spokesman said Ford remains determined and convinced he will win the Republican nomination.

But an outcome that had seemed inevitable to many Republican leaders no longer looks like a sure thing. And unless Ford can quickly repair the damage by dealing setbacks to Reagan the coming primaries, the race could begin to look inviting to some men now on the sidelines.

Should Reagan build on his current advantage, Republicans like John B. Connally and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller may see openings that didn't exist before. And that could draw more after the primary election season, which ends nine weeks before the GOP convention begins.

For the moment, the arithmetic reads Reagan. He emerged from the Tuesday primaries with 360 committed GOP delegates in his column. Ford has 292. That has not happened to an incumbent President seeking election in modern times.

Rogers C.B. Morton, Ford's campaign manager, said events had given Reagan "a sudden, and I hope temporary, advantage."

He said a major factor in that turn was the crossover vote of conservative Democrats who cast ballots in Republican primaries because of Wallace's virtual elimination from their party's competition. Reagan said crossover Democratic support was a virtue, proving he would have broad appeal as the GOP nominee.

Circleville City Council Hears Annexation Proposal

By TOM SPRING
Herald Staff Writer

Circleville City Council passed two ordinances and heard a proposal for land annexation at the regular meeting held Tuesday night.

One ordinance authorized the director of public service to advertise bids and enter into contracts for the purchase of one new front end loader and one new air compressor according to specifications on file in the director's office.

The second ordinance transfers $610 from the unappropriated money of the federal revenue trust funds to the general fund and credits the city solicitor's account for legal costs and expenses. Both votes were unanimous.

Jay Clevenger, director of Brooks Yates School, and Barnhill presented a proposal to annex 3.66 acres of land adjoining the city near Pickaway Manor for the purpose of obtaining sewer connection. The school wants to proceed with plans to build a 7,000 square foot workshop for adults on the land, which is only feasible if the city will provide sewer services. Mayor

Barnhill said that this could only come about through annexation of the land according to established procedures.

Second ward councilman John Jenkins announced a meeting of the service committee for May 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Frank Barnhill announced that "the clean-up week is very successful. People are taking advantage of city services."

He also said that the county health department has asked the city to start negotiations for the continuation of a contract to provide city health services. The city is currently paying $30,000 a year for this service, Barnhill said.

The mayor also said that the service department is raising manholes to grade level with the asphalt surfaces of the roads as part of a program to man the city storm and sewer system. Locations of all manholes are being recorded and the manholes leveled to smoothen the road surface.

Barnhill announced that plans are being made in conjunction with the Jaycees to hold a dedication ceremony of the new entrance to Ted Lewis Park on Memorial Day.

Councilman Tom Wells asked about the condition of Patrolman Wes Barton who is on sick leave. Safety director Ed Ebert announced that Barton will be returning to work at the desk and also reported the immediate resignation of Patrolman David Lemaster.

Ebert announced a "$400 bill on the damaged police cruiser that the council voted to get rid of." He noted that the police will still need it for another couple months.

Clerk Robert Shadley read a letter from Dr. Ralph A. Hovermale, chairman of the Nicholas Drive PTB, on behalf of the parents of children at the school thanking the city for installing a traffic light at the intersection of Clark and Nicholas Drives.

Solicitor John Adkins gave a monthly activity summary of the Emergency Medical Team for April. The team made a total of 65 emergency runs. A total of 1241 hours were recorded by 49 volunteers.

First Ward Councilman David Goldschmidt raised a question of abuse in the use of the squad and Ed Ebert replied only the law enforcement agencies have the phone number of the EMT so that calls can be screened for true emergencies only. This practice, he said, has been very successful.

Mayor Barnhill announced that an increase in the price for use of the local landfill has raised costs to the city $20 per month. Total cost has thus increased to $70 per month.

Council President Joe Bell said that Richard Gerhardt will show a presentation of downtown restoration plans at the next council meeting.

Anticancer Drugs Proving Effective

WASHINGTON (AP) — Powerful anticancer drugs used together significantly prolong survival of some patients with advanced stomach cancer — a fatal condition virtually untreatable in the past, Georgetown University scientists announced today.

The scientists said about half of 21 advanced stomach cancer patients in a study responded to the treatment, with some of the patients so far living more than three times longer than with conventional therapy.

"The big thing to emphasize is that with gastric (stomach) cancer, there really haven't been other treatment results indicating this prolonged survival," Dr. John Macdonald said in an interview.

"This indicates there is now a 50 per cent chance that gastric cancer cases can respond to the program and for those who do, there could be a relatively long survival with improved quality of life compared to present statistics," he said.

Macdonald and Drs. Philip S. Schein, Winston Ueno and Paul Woolley presented the results of their study in Toronto, Canada, at a meeting of the American Society of Clinical Oncology.

With the best previous drug treatment for stomach cancer, "the average survival time was only five and one half months for 50 per cent of the patients," Macdonald said. "There was almost no difference between this and the average survival time of similar cases if untreated — for 50 per cent of those the average survival was 3-4 months."

In the study, 10 of 21 patients responded to the new treatment. Two of the 10 died after surviving more than 10 months after treatment.

The remaining eight have survived from five to 15 months after beginning therapy, with six of the patients so far surviving past nine months, Macdonald said.

The therapy involves using three anticancer agents — adriamycin, 5-fluorouracil and mitomycin — together and singularly over an eight-week treatment cycle which is continually repeated, the said.

Macdonald said the therapy should be even more effective against early stomach cancer and studies have begun with larger groups of patients to test this.

Stomach cancer is the sixth major cause of cancer death in the United States. The American Cancer Society estimates that 14,400 persons will die of the disease this year and that 22,900 new cases will be diagnosed.

MEMORIAL GRAVE MARKER — Glen Jones, assistant chief of the Circleville Fire Department, presents Mrs. Daniel D. Eitel with an American Flag and grave marker for her husband, who died recently. Mr. Eitel

Chamber Directors Hear About Plans For Station House

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed a slight gain today while investors continued to study the interest rate outlook.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks edged up a fraction in the early going, and gainers took a 3-2 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market appeared to draw some reassurance from a decline Tuesday in the interest rate on federal funds — excess reserves which banks loan each other overnight.

The federal funds rate often exerts an influence on shortterm interest rates generally.

Today's early prices included Tandy Corp., up 1/2 at 38 3/4; Merrill Lynch, unchanged at 25 1/4; National Semiconductor, up 1/4 at 44 1/2, and Gulf Oil, off 1/4 at 25 3/4.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.38 to 993.70, thanks to a late upturn.

Gainers outpaced losers by about an 8-5 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index rose .29 to 53.97.

Big Board volume came to 17.24 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange the market value index was up .16 at 101.97.

GUEST SPEAKER — Mrs. Ada Lou Deal was the guest speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Board of Directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Deal, presented to the group by Richard Gerhardt, talked on the plans the Ashville Bicentennial Commission has for the old N & W station house in Ashville. The group is trying to restore and preserve the old building.

Mrs. Ada Lou Deal of the Ashville Bicentennial Commission was the guest speaker Tuesday at the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Governors meeting.

Mrs. Deal, presented by Richard Gerhardt representing the Chamber's Area Development Committee, spoke on the preservation of the old station house on Station Street in Ashville. She said the saving of the old building had become a project of the Ashville Bicentennial Commission.

It was one of the first buildings erected in Ashville. The N & W Railroad has given the building to the bicentennial commission but the building must be moved from its present location. Mrs. Deal explained the various projects planned for the old station and went into detail about the recent musical staged for the benefit of the project. The commission made $2,200 on the musical and will use these funds to restore the old building.

She also added that several people had shown an interest in having the musical restaged and groups wishing to sponsor it should contact her.

Other guests at the regular meeting of the board of directors were county commissioners Don Strous and Robert Liston; Dr. Clark Cello, an orthodontist who recently located in Circleville; Dr. Faryar Moshtaghi, a surgeon who also recently came to the area and Dr. Steve Gilmore, D.D.S. who has joined Dr. J. N. Bowers' practice.

Bill Bennett, chairman of the membership committee, reported to the board that 22 new members had joined the Chamber. He announced that many of the newest members were from the Ashville area including K & K Mobile Homes, Ashville Coffee Shop, Bastian Funeral Home, Gale Leatherwood and Associates, Walden Inventory Services, Newman Insurance Agencies and Margulis, Gussler, Hall and Hosterman Attorneys. Other new members recognized by Bennett were Denny Kitchen, attorney; Weldon and Wilburn, attorneys at law; Koch's Sohio, and Dr. Emily Lutz.

Chamber President Larry Plum stated that the Chamber was interested in becoming more involved as a county-wide organization and expressed his appreciation of the membership committee's work along the lines of garnering members from other parts of the county.

Other committee reports were given by Chaney Vance of the Agri-Business Committee and Richard Gerhardt of the Area Development Committee. Vance recognized his committee members, George Hamrick, John Stevenson, Myron Leist and Dorwin Hay, and briefed the Chamber on the Farm Heritage Days set for Sept. 11 and 12. Gerhardt reported that the plans for the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission would be formally presented to city council in two weeks.

Asa Elsea, chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee, asked committee chairmen to prepare budgets for their individual committee projects. August is the deadline for submitting budgets.

A resume of the plans made by the Pickaway County Bicentennial commission was given by Ned Harden. He reminded Chamber members to be sure to attend the Bicentennial Ball Saturday. He also said that there were a few sets of silver coins left but no more could be ordered. There were only 100 sets minted.

The commission also has flags, bicentennial decorations, and color guard uniforms which are available to groups sponsoring bicentennial projects. Harden noted that the flags had been donated by the First and Third National Banks. He also cited the Savings Bank and the Second National Bank for their donations to the commission.

Education Committee chairman Jim Butler reported that his group had presented a film strip entitled "Economics for Young Americans" to the area counselors.

A voting record of the 94th Congress was presented to the board members and discussed.

A final committee report presented at the meeting was from Ed Bohenko of the Safety Committee. He reported that the safety seminars were still in progress at the Pickaway Ross Joint Vocational School.

Minor Fire Reported

The Circleville Fire Department dispatched at 4:09 p.m. Tuesday to the Herman Fausnaugh Jr. residence at 255 Pawnee Drive.

Minor damages were reported from the fire caused when a skillet on the stove caught fire.

Deaths

HELEN R. STROUS

Helen R. Strous, 73, 119 N. Scioto St., formerly of Spangler Road, died 6 p.m. Monday at her residence.

Born Oct. 8, 1902 in Pickaway County, she was the daughter of Harley and Mary Routt Roll.

Survivors include one son, Ned A. Strous, Spangler Road; four grandchildren, Allen Strous, Kim Strous, John Strous and Stormy Strous.

She was preceded in death by three brothers, John Roll, 1970; Orland Roll, 1965, and Herbert (Dick) Roll, 1953.

The funeral service will be held 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Defenbaugh and Wise Funeral Home with the Rev. Pastor Roy Osborn officiating. Burial will be in Hallsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home 5-9 p.m. Wednesday.

KIWANIS SPEAKERS — Mrs. Vera Saunders (center) and Mrs. Blanche Kerns were the guest speakers at Mound-builders Kiwanis Club Tuesday morning. They were introduced by Sam Dettra.

Reagan, Carter . . .

There was evidence of a substantial crossover vote in the crucial Indiana race, although it did not approach that in Texas. Alabama and Georgia also were open primaries, in which a voter could go either way. And Morton noted that there will be six more like them. He said the Ford camp will have to find a way to cope with the crossover problem, although it wasn't clear what that might be.

The contests next Tuesday are in Nebraska and West Virginia, and both those states register voters by party, which precludes primary switches.

But this week's outcome may give Reagan next week's momentum. He said he thought the Texas victory helped him Tuesday. Indiana strategists on both sides said in advance that the Texas sweep would boost Reagan's showing, perhaps by five per cent. That was more than his margin of victory.

The votes read this way:

Indiana

With 94 per cent of the precincts counted in the Republican race it was: Reagan 309,913, or 51 per cent. Ford 294,724, or 49 per cent.

That awarded Reagan 45 Republican nominating delegates; Ford 9. The delegates were apportioned on the basis of congressional district pluralities as well as statewide showings.

On the Democratic side:

Carter 380,976, or 68 per cent. Wallace 82,916, or 15 per cent. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, a dropout from the active campaign, 65,409, or 12 per cent.

Carter won 48 delegates, Wallace six, with 21 uncommitted.

Democratic Sen. Vance Hartke won renomination over Rep. Philip H. Hayes. Secretary of State Larry A. Conrad won the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Gov. Otis R. Bowen.

Georgia

With 98 per cent of the precincts counted:

Reagan 124,880, or 68 per cent. Ford 57,795, or 32 per cent.

That meant 48 delegates for Reagan. Democrat Carter had 408,397, or 84 per cent.

Wallace 56,357, or 12 per cent. Democrats held separate competition for delegates, and Carter won all 50.

Alabama

With 13 per cent of the Republican precincts counted, Reagan led for 31 delegates.

In the Democratic primary, with 64 per cent of the precincts in, Wallace was winning 29 delegates, Carter three, and three were uncommitted. District of Columbia

Carter led for seven delegates, Rep. Morris K. Udall for four, and two uncommitted entries were ahead, with 45 per cent of the precincts counted.

That meant Reagan had won 124 delegates on his biggest day as a candidate, for his national total of 360. Ford captured only nine, to get to 292. It will take 1,130 to name a GOP nominee.

Ford has had reserve delegate strength in the ranks of nominally uncommitted Republicans, including 254 delegates elected in the New York and Pennsylvania primaries.

Morton said the Ford organization will move to tie down those delegates, but that may be difficult just now. With Ford in difficulty, they may want to see some more primaries before deciding how to go. The convention is three months away, and given the new look of the Republican race, uncommitted status may look good to them.

Reagan's road upward began when he started hitting hard at Ford on foreign and defense policy, claiming the United States has slipped to second place militarily. Ford struck back with harshly-worded denials, said Reagan was glib, superficial and inexperienced. That didn't counter the Reagan thrust, and it is not evident what Ford can do now to cope with that campaign offensive.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed a slight gain today while investors continued to study the interest rate outlook.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks edged up a fraction in the early going, and gainers took a 3-2 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market appeared to draw some reassurance from a decline Tuesday in the interest rate on federal funds — excess reserves which banks loan each other overnight.

The federal funds rate often exerts an influence on short-term interest rates generally.

Today's early prices included Tandy Corp., up 1/2 at 38 3/4; Merrill Lynch, unchanged at 25 1/4; National Semiconductor, up 1/4 at 44 1/2, and Gulf Oil, off 1/8 at 25 1/2.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.38 to 993.70, thanks to a late upturn.

Gainers outpaced losers by about an 8-5 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index rose .29 to 53.97.

Big Board volume came to 17.24 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange the market value index was up .16 at 101.97.

Minor damages were reported from the fire caused when a skillet on the stove caught fire.

Deaths

HELEN R. STROUS

Helen R. Strous, 73, 119 N. Scioto St., formerly of Spangler Road, died 6 p.m. Monday at her residence.

Born Oct. 8, 1902 in Pickaway County, she was the daughter of Harley and Mary Routt Roll.

Survivors include one son, Ned A. Strous, Spangler Road; four grandchildren, Allen Strous, Kim Strous, John Strous and Stormy Strous.

She was preceded in death by three brothers, John Roll, 1970; Orland Roll, 1965, and Herbert (Dick) Roll, 1953.

The funeral service will be held 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Defenbaugh and Wise Funeral Home with the Rev. Pastor Roy Osborn officiating. Burial will be in Hallsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home 5-9 p.m. Wednesday.

KIWANIS SPEAKERS — Mrs. Vera Saunders (center) and Mrs. Blanche Kerns were the guest speakers at Mound-builders Kiwanis Club Tuesday morning. They were introduced by Sam Dettra.

Reagan, Carter . . .

There was evidence of a substantial crossover vote in the crucial Indiana race, although it did not approach that in Texas. Alabama and Georgia also were open primaries, in which a voter could go either way. And Morton noted that there will be six more like them. He said the Ford camp will have to find a way to cope with the crossover problem, although it wasn't clear what that might be.

The contests next Tuesday are in Nebraska and West Virginia, and both those states register voters by party, which precludes primary switches.

But this week's outcome may give Reagan next week's momentum. He said he thought the Texas victory helped him Tuesday. Indiana strategists on both sides said in advance that the Texas sweep would boost Reagan's showing, perhaps by five per cent. That was more than his margin of victory.

The votes read this way:

Indiana
With 94 per cent of the precincts counted in the Republican race it was: Reagan 309,913, or 51 per cent. Ford 294,724, or 49 per cent.

That awarded Reagan 45 Republican nominating delegates; Ford 9. The delegates were apportioned on the basis of congressional district pluralities as well as statewide showings.

On the Democratic side: Carter 380,976, or 68 per cent. Wallace 82,916, or 15 per cent.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, a dropout from the active campaign, 65,409, or 12 per cent.

Carter won 48 delegates, Wallace six, with 21 uncommitted.

Democratic Sen. Vance Hartke won renomination over Rep. Philip H. Hayes. Secretary of State Larry A. Conrad won the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Gov. Otis R. Bowen.

Georgia
With 98 per cent of the precincts counted:

Reagan 124,880, or 68 per cent.

Ford 57,795, or 32 per cent.

That meant 48 delegates for Reagan.

Democrat Carter had 408,397, or 84 per cent.

Wallace 56,357, or 12 per cent.

Democrats held separate competition for delegates, and Carter won all 50.

Alabama
With 13 per cent of the Republican precincts counted, Reagan led for 31 delegates.

In the Democratic primary, with 64 per cent of the precincts in, Wallace was winning 29 delegates, Carter three, and three were uncommitted. District of Columbia

Carter led for seven delegates, Rep. Morris K. Udall for four, and two uncommitted entries were ahead, with 45 per cent of the precincts counted.

That meant Reagan had won 124 delegates on his biggest day as a candidate, for his national total of 360. Ford captured only nine, to get to 292.

It will take 1,130 to name a GOP nominee.

Ford has had reserve delegate strength in the ranks of nominally uncommitted Republicans, including 254 delegates elected in the New York and Pennsylvania primaries.

Morton said the Ford organization will move to tie down those delegates, but that may be difficult just now. With Ford in difficulty, they may want to see some more primaries before deciding how to go. The convention is three months away, and given the new look of the Republican race, uncommitted status may look good to them.

Reagan's road upward began when he started hitting hard at Ford on foreign and defense policy, claiming the United States has slipped to second place militarily. Ford struck back with harshly-worded denials, said Reagan was glib, superficial and inexperienced. That didn't counter the Reagan thrust, and it is not evident what Ford can do now to cope with that campaign offensive.

MRS. JOHN SABINE, PHONE 983-2086

The Harrison Township Emergency Squad made the following runs this past week:

April 28, traffic accident at Madison and Scioto Streets in Ashville, two injured taken to Berger Hospital; traffic accident at Ashville Pike and Duvall Road, four injured and one killed, all transported to the Rickenbacker Air Force Base Hospital;

April 29, transported Bernard Trecker of Route 4, Ringgold, to Berger Hospital, illness; transported Robert Rainey Sr., 5112 St. Paul Road, Ashville, to Mercy Hospital, possible heart attack;

April 30, examined Paul Kuhlwein, 260 Glenn Road, Ashville, difficulty in breathing; transported Bonnie Simmons, Gregory Trailer Court, to Children's Hospital, finger amputated by power mower; transported Lewis Brown, Gregory Trailer Court, to Berger Hospital, leg run over by a car;

May 2, transported Jerry Pack, 99 Long St., Ashville, to Berger Hospital, illness.

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department made the following runs:

April 27, C&O Railroad diesel engine on fire near Lockbourne Eastern Road overhead, south of Ashville, damage estimated at $20,000; April 28, fire inside trailer owned by J. C. Miller, Gregory Trailer Court, damage estimated at $100; April 30, grass fire near substation on Shepard Road, no damage.

The Walnut Township School PTO will meet at the school on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. During the business meeting the election of officers for the coming year will be held.

A band concert, under the direction of Fred Brobst, will be presented by students of the fifth and sixth grades.

Vivian Hoover Frazier spent the weekend in Wheeling, W. Va. with Jack Bartley and the Coffee Club members from Chillicothe and surrounding areas. A wonderful time was had by all visiting different spots in Wheeling and the W.W.V.A. Jam-boree Show.

The annual spring band concert will be held on Friday, at 8 p.m. at Teays Valley High School. Both the junior and senior high bands will perform.

All former music students of Fred Brobst are urged to attend, since he is retiring at the end of the school year after many years of service to the district.

Mrs. Emily Berry and her sister, Mrs. Donald Myers, have just returned from attending the 85th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held in Washington D. C.

Opening night session was very exciting. The United States Marine Band played for 25 minutes preceding and for the processional. Flags of every State were carried in by Pages in long white gowns. When the President General reached a certain point in this procession a very large American Flag came floating down from the ceiling to hang there for the duration of the National Convention.

On Tuesday afternoon the White House was closed to the general public and the DAR members were permitted to browse on two floors. They were also in the Rose Garden. It is simply beautiful. Chamber music was being played in the main foyer by four members of the Marine Band. Floral bouquets were everywhere.

On Wednesday morning President Gerald Ford spoke to the group in Constitution Hall. As they entered the hall security was very noticeable, they had waited in line for over an hour, then purses were checked as they entered the hall.

While in Washington they visited the Kennedy Center, had lunch in the Gallery dining room and enjoyed their bicentennial presentation of America on Parade. There are three beautiful theaters and such large and impressive chandeliers in each.

They also enjoyed dinner at the well-known French Restaurant, San Souci. The weather was a scorching 93 degrees while there. The four officers of Franklinton represented their chapter at the convention.

Mrs. Ralph L. Franks and her family wishes to extend their warmest and sincere thanks to all the relatives, friends and neighbors for all their kindness and help during the illness and death of their father and husband, Ralph L. Franks.

A very special thanks to Berger Hospital staff, the Rev. Currans and the Bastian Funeral Home.

Tuesday, is the night for the Teays Valley Music Banquet. The carry-in dinner will be held in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. Please bring your own table service. Beverages will be provided.

The annual mother-daughter banquet of the Zion United Methodist Church will be held on May 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the social room of the church. Reservations should be made with Dorothy Cook by Tuesday.

The Friendship Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet at the home of Herb and Sonia Seymour on Thursday, at 8 p.m. They will be sponsoring a bowling party at Circle D Lanes on Saturday at 6 p.m.

Results of the Thursday Morning Crackpots Bowling League for April 29 were: high single game, Sharon Welsh, 245; high three-game series, Sharon Welsh, 606; high team game, Bev's House of Beauty, 748; high team series, Oakes Union 76, 2068.

The Ashville-Harrison Alumni Association has sent out the invitations for the annual Alumni Banquet and request that any Alumni that does not receive an invitation to send their address to Shirley Rathburn, 70 Cherry St., Ashville or Carolyn Weigand, 134 E. Union St., Circleville.

The Everfaithful Sunday School Class of the Zion United Methodist Church met in the home of Dorothy Cook for their April meeting. Serving as co-host was Violet Currans.

The scripture was read by Martha Martin and Dorothy Cook read from the Upper Room. The group was led in prayer by Verna Remy.

During the business meeting it was decided to purchase a play pen for the nursery at the church. Games were played and prizes won by Fern Bozman, Martha Martin and Joyce Gloyd. The door prize was won by Fern Bozman.

A salad course was served by the hostesses to Martha Martin, Joyce Gloyd, Mae Alexander, Doris Cline, Sonia Seymour, Verna Remy, Janie Smith, Faye Mahaffey, Faye Leatherwood, Peg Trimble, Fern Bozman, Betty Smith, Alma Higgins, the Rev. John Currans and Steve Cook.

The mother-daughter banquet of the Village United Methodist Church will be served in the church basement at 6:30 p.m. The reservations for the dinner are being taken by Helen Toole.

See Faith In Society Being Lost

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The 1970s are marked by steady loss of belief in the possibility of building a better society and by acceptance of settling for steady social erosion, a futurist said here Tuesday.

But Robert Theobald, a British author noted for recommending a guaranteed annual income and other steps for redistribution of the world's wealth, said he still believes rapid change for the better is possible.

Speaking in a program established in the memory of the four students slain at Kent State University in May 1970, Theobald said the greatest threat facing the world isn't a war of superpowers but conflict between the rich and poor countries.

"War has become too dangerous for it to take place between powers which have large-scale access to modern weaponry," Theobald reasoned. "Unfortunately we continue to act as though relative strengths have meaning when each country certainly has enough weaponry capacity to wipe out the other's ability to function." But in terms of the potential for a flareup because of economic tensions, he said, "the patterns in Angola, Rhodesia and South Africa foreshadow some of the threat patterns of the future."

A Page Of Opinion

One-Way Issue

Undoubtedly the good economic news of late (Gross National Product up at an annual rate of 7.5 per cent in the first quarter, inflation down to less than 4 per cent) provided the Ford administration powerful ammunition in this election year.

Pocketbook issues, the President's campaign rivals have been saying, will rank high on the voter's checklist when he goes to the polls. And indeed they might, if they had not been showing such a strong improvement.

That does not mean the White House is going to gain much from the issue come November, even if the economic recovery continues at a strong pace. Pocketbook issues are among those strange topics which seem to be mostly one-sided. It is very easy to be against a sour economy, but when a reasonable facsimile of prosperity rolls around again memories tend to dim.

It is easy to become angry with an incumbent when inflation, the GNP and unemployment are unfavorable. But when the indicators more or less return to normal, voters begin looking for other issues to ignite their voting interest.

Defusing an opponent's issues is part of good political strategy. That is about the most the Ford campaign can expect to gain from the pocketbook issue.

Turnabout Is Pair Flay

By JIM BISHOP

Words are the crutches of communication. When they break, they are sometimes hilarious. The difference between what a man says — or writes — and what he means is often demonstrably ridiculous.

A newspaper in Virginia wanted to pay tribute to an honored citizen and printed: "Col. Eustis will be remembered as the battle-scarred veteran of World War I." The following day, it published a correction: "What we intended to say is that everyone will remember Col. Eustis as the battle-scarred veteran . . ."

A director of a Miss Canada contest, who preferred to have the girls judged by talent rather than figure, shouted, "I have fought for five years to get the bathing suits off the girls." An announcer in Florida, stated, "For those who prefer to get to Bermuda by air, the best way is to take a plane."

The Solano (Cal.) Republican

published: "Police Chief Clift, who was wearing hightop boots and was minus his uniform, exhibited his credentials." The Knoxville Sentinel stated: "Ten years ago, a gentleman wore white shorts. Now the same man not only welcomes color, but enjoys a little frivolity in his drawers."

Billboard ad: "Lion tamer seeking tamer lion." My father told me of an Irish cop who saw a bowl of grapefruit for the first time: "Lieutenant," he said, "lookit the size of them oranges. I bet it wouldn't take many of them to make a dozen."

Andre Baruch, an unctuous radio commentator, intoned: "Good ladies, evening and gentlemen of the audio radiance." Another one meant precisely what he said: "At Moe's Esso station, we can have you gassed, charged up and have your parts lubricated in less than 30 minutes."

John Reed King seldom fluffed a line, but there came a time when he wanted to say something nice about the Lindsay-Crouse play, "Life with Father": "That long run Crinday-Louse play, 'Lice with Father.'" A proper lady on a problem program stated tearfully, "He left me when his business fell off."

Then there was a commercial: "Remember, it's Wonder Bread for the breast in bed." A laundry begged for customers, stating, "Ladies who care to drive by and drop their clothes off will receive prompt attention." Young Dr. Malone: "Nurse, be sure to give the patient a hypodermic noodle."

The greatest of all time was the fabulous Rev. William Spooner, dean of New College, Oxford. He was a grim and brilliant scholar, but he couldn't get his tongue in gear.

In church, he whispered to a lady, "Marden me paddom. This pie is occupied. May I sew you to another sheet?" In the pulpit, he intoned, "The Lord is a shoving leopard."

The beauty of the Rev. Spooner was that he never paused to try to correct his words. As he stated firmly later in life, "I knew what I meant."

He told a nervous groom, after a wedding ceremony, "It is kistomary to cuss the bride." He chided a tardy student, "You hissed my mystery lecture." To describe a feline dropping from a height, he said, "The cat popped on its drawers."

His glasses became "Sporn rim spectacles." When he called on a member of the faculty, he asked a secretary, "Is the dean dizzy?" At the end of World War I, Spooner made a patriotic speech, "When the boys come back from France, we'll have the hags flung out."

The Reverend referred to Queen Victoria as "Our queer old dean." It was impossible for him to enunciate "conquering kings their titles take," but he tried in any case: "kinkering congs their tatles tike."

He referred to his bicycle as a "well boiled icycle." When a hawk preyed on chickens, it did it in "one swell foop." Spooner dwelled far above the derisive laughter of his students. He lived to be 86, and may be the only man who departed without any last words.

Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the major goals of organized labor in negotiations with management this year will be to get workers their COLAs, or cost-of-living adjustments. Workers insist that life is smoother with COLAs.

Union leaders consider this a catch-up year, following a nightmarish and, until recently, rare encounter with combined recession-inflation, during which the buying power of paychecks often declined, not to mention the number of jobs.

Some union men feel such economic peculiarities have shortchanged the laboring man and woman and are determined to see that it doesn't happen again, particularly through the remedy of cost-of-living escalators.

They'll have plenty of opportunity to express their feelings, with many major contracts coming up for renewal. In all, 4.5 million workers will be involved in major agreements, compared to 2.8 million last year.

Already, the trucking industry has agreed to a COLA arrangement. One reason why rubber workers are on strike is because of wages lost in the absence of a COLA. It is in the forefront of current negotiations with General Electric.

It would be calming to those who fear the recovery could be disrupted by strikes if COLA arrangements weren't controversial, but they are, very much so, and it shouldn't come as a shock if they are a root cause of disagreements.

Some critics maintain that cost-of-living clauses are causes of inflation. Buyer resistance, they claim, is the best way to bring prices down, but if wages merely adjust to those prices a major restraining force is removed.

Such agreements, it is claimed, also are used by industry to justify price increases, thus feeding energy into the spiral and providing the justification for further wage demands.

Labor disagrees, and it has assembled statistical support for its stand. Says John Zalusky, AFL-CIO economist and specialist in collective bargaining: "Escalator clauses are not an engine of inflation; they are the caboose."

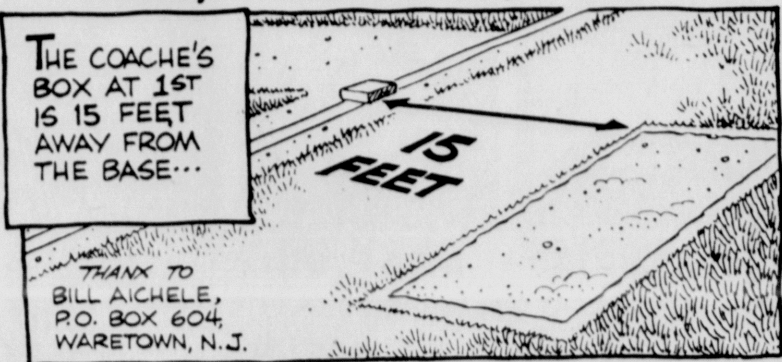

Such clauses, the AFL-CIO maintains, rarely recapture more than 50 per cent of lost buying power, a major reason being the time delay between price increases and wage adjustments. Rather than sweetening wages, they merely keep them from becoming more sour.

For example, Zalusky in an article for the AFL-CIO publication "The American Federationist" observes that a 1976 agreement might provide for wages to be adjusted Aug. 1 for price data published July 21 for the month of June.

Some adjustments take much longer; they are based on quarterly changes. In addition, some COLAs aren't triggered until price increases reach a certain level.

Though they may be imperfect, COLAs undoubtedly are coming in for renewed use because of the painful reminders that the up-down economic cycle has by no means been tamed, and probably won't be in this century, if ever.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 5, the 126th day of 1976. There are 240 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1961, astronaut Alan Shepard was rocketed 115 miles into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla. He was the first U.S. space explorer.

On this date: In 1824, British troops occupied Rangoon, Burma.

In 1864, Union troops were routed by Confederates in the Civil War Battle of the Wilderness, west of Fredericksburg, Va.

In 1936, war ended in Ethiopia as the capital, Addis Ababa, fell to Italian troops.

Ten years ago: Prices tumbled on Wall Street after General Motors announced it would cut back production because of a decline in car sales.

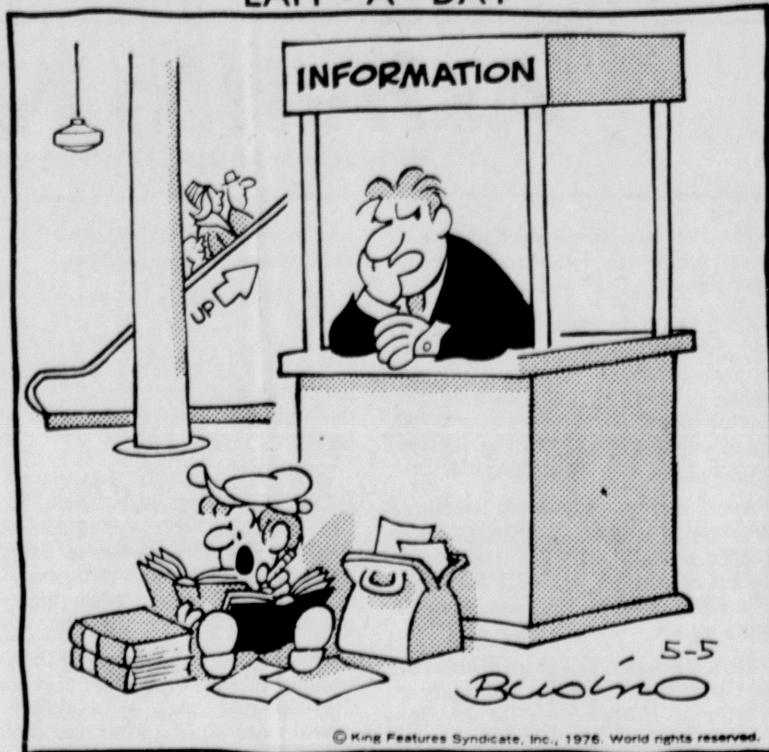

Five years ago: There was a monetary crisis in Europe because of a sell-off of U.S. dollars, and several government banks suspended foreign exchange trading.

One year ago: President Ford asked Congress for more than $500 million to aid the resettlement of South Vietnamese refugees in the U.S.

Today's birthday: Food expert James Beard is 71.

Thought for today: If man had heeded the advice always to keep both feet on the ground, we wouldn't be living in the space age — anonymous.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, General George Washington reported to the Continental Congress in Philadelphia that he had moved his army to New York on the premise that the British would attack the city but said he was willing to move to any other location the Congress indicated.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Influenza leaves in its path exhaustion and devitalization.

Those who have been afflicted are aware that their fatigue has been far more of a burden than the disease itself.

Physicians everywhere have noted that this particular complication has been prolonged and distressing.

Fatigue is a healthy mechanism at work, warning and protecting the body against physical and emotional stresses. Fatigue is the cry of the body for rest.

Fatigue, or "asthenia," prevents the body from overextending itself. This symptom must be respected if the body is to return more rapidly to normal efficiency. Fatigue begs for recognition. When disregarded, the convalescent period is extended.

During an active infection there is a marked depletion of protein, which probably plays an important role in the post-infectious period. There are some excellent high protein and amino acid concentrates which are extremely helpful in restoring protein levels after an infection.

It is of interest, too, that fatigue can be produced by loneliness, boredom, domestic worries and emotional frustration. The relationship between physical and emotional fatigue must not be overlooked.

People who are aware of such fatigue after infections or surgery must not push themselves too hard.

characteristic symptoms of hypoglycemia, far too many people make their own diagnosis of the disorder of hypoglycemia.

Hypoglycemia is a very real condition associated with many complex alterations in body function. There is no guesswork about the diagnosis. When physicians, by their clinical examination and the history of an illness, suspect hypoglycemia the diagnosis can be readily established.

Special glucose tolerance tests, done over a period of four, five or six hours, clearly indicate the presence or absence of hypoglycemia.

New Food

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Dr. Jack Mitchell Jr., a bio-chemist at Clemson University, has come up with a brand new peanut product which he believes could become a worldwide food staple.

Peanuts are ground into white mush, made into a milky mixture by adding water, cooked, dried into thin sheets and crumbled or ground into flakes or powder.

Mitchell says the product is highly nutritious, cholesterol free, has a large storage life and a remarkable ability to take on the flavor of other food.

Already tested recipes using the product as a basic ingredient range from candies and meats to scrambled eggs.

Cities See Desperate Revenue Sharing Need

By CLINT SWIFT
Associated Press Writer

Ohio's cities don't insist federal intervention is necessary to keep the wolf from city hall. But professionals in municipal finance cherish few illusions about the independence of their cities from Washington's largess.

"To even debate revenue sharing is absurd," said James Daken, city manager in Toledo. "There is no way the government can cease or limit it without bankrupting the cities."

Middletown's finance director, Robert F. Ritter, agrees: "Revenue sharing was the government's answer to the crisis of the cities. Now Congress is kicking around renewal of this thing

NFO Banquet Highlights April Activities

The Pickaway County National Farmers Organization month was highlighted with a businessman-farmer appreciation banquet held April 10 at the 4-H and Grange Building.

Over 300 businessmen and farmers were present for a smorgasbord roast beef dinner and to hear De Von Woodland, NFO national vice president who was the guest speaker.

Woodland related the problems of the family farmer and suggested answers to the problem. The invocation was given by Msgr. Joseph E. McGlynn. The welcome and introduction of guests was by Tom Conrad, county NFO president.

The meal was served by the Pickaway County Pamona Grange. Entertainment during the meal was provided by Karen, Greg, Becky Conrad singing "Grandma's Featherbed" and a selection of numbers by Jean and Laura Writsel and Lynda Conrad.

The regular monthly meeting was held at Five Points United Methodist Church. Commodity reports were given by Joe Carle, John Diffendall and Tom Conrad.

The May meeting will be held 8 p.m. May 18 at Five Points United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Robert Drummond, Darby Township chairman of the 1976 Cancer Crusade, wishes to express her appreciation to the volunteers who gave of their time to work on the crusade, and also those who gave financially to further the fight against cancer.

She urges everyone to be aware of the seven warning signals listed on the brochure given by the crusaders.

as if it had forgotten why it was begun."

Mayor Ralph Perk boasts he has balanced the books in Cleveland the last four years. But the books show that of $135 million spent to run the state's largest city in 1975, only $90 million was raised locally through income, property and other taxes. Uncle Sam provided the rest.

Several cities planned to dip into revenue sharing, the government's program of bloc grants to the cities, for the first time in 1976 to meet operating expenses.

Akron ticketed $588,765 of an expected $6.6 million in revenue sharing to pay benefits of streets department employees. The alternative? Layoffs, according to finance director Peter F. Donnelly.

Uhrichville anticipates using revenue sharing for the first time to pay operating expenses. City employees were due raises of 14.6 per cent at the new year, and the $22,751 that represented was to come out of the federal funds. About $34,000 in insurance costs and $7,500 for policemen and firemen pensions also were carried under revenue sharing.

Canton received $2.04 million in revenue sharing last year, and almost all went to pay police and firefighters. Critics of Mayor Stanley Cnich complained it was debauchery of the concept, which originated as a way to help cities pay for improvements which continually were bumped from the appropriations list by necessities.

At the beginning of the decade, revenue sharing in Portsmouth was used to remodel city hall. In 1974, $87,000 of the city's revenue sharing composed 3.4 per cent of the operating budget. This year, 18.4 per cent of the general fund, or $566,807, will come from revenue sharing. "The city by itself is not meeting costs," observed budget officer Robert Richardson.

Revenue sharing had been used since 1972 to pay some operating costs in Middletown. Last year, half or more than $1.1 million was spent on pensions for police and firemen, vehicle upkeep and street maintenance.

City fiscal officers also are finding it profitable to learn the meaning of federal programs known by initials, such as CETA, the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, and requirements of the federal community development program. The question of extending CETA and the development program is before Congress now.

Akron's $84.2 million operating budget also looked forward to $4.4 million in CETA funds and $3.7 million in community development funds. Federal dollars support 484 jobs in Akron this year compared with 227 jobs last year. One federal rodent control program paid for seven jobs, while a state grant of $75,890 supported five persons working with alcoholics.

Lima slashed the summer recreation budget in half, planning to restore the 50 jobs with $80,000 of expected CETA money. Warren laid off 63 persons who were to be rehired with CETA funds. Cincinnati cut 102 jobs to make a $113 million budget work but was seeking CETA funds to avoid laying off 533 more.

At the beginning of the decade, revenue sharing in Portsmouth was used to remodel city hall. In 1974, $87,000 of the city's revenue sharing composed 3.4 per cent of the operating budget. This year, 18.4 per cent of the general fund, or $566,807, will come from revenue sharing. "The city by itself is not meeting costs," observed budget officer Robert Richardson.

Revenue sharing had been used since 1972 to pay some operating costs in Middletown. Last year, half or more than $1.1 million was spent on pensions for police and firemen, vehicle upkeep and street maintenance.

City fiscal officers also are finding it profitable to learn the meaning of federal programs known by initials, such as CETA, the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, and requirements of the federal community development program. The question of extending CETA and the development program is before Congress now.

Akron's $84.2 million operating budget also looked forward to $4.4 million in CETA funds and $3.7 million in community development funds. Federal dollars support 484 jobs in Akron this year compared with 227 jobs last year. One federal rodent control program paid for seven jobs, while a state grant of $75,890 supported five persons working with alcoholics.

Lima slashed the summer recreation budget in half, planning to restore the 50 jobs with $80,000 of expected CETA money. Warren laid off 63 persons who were to be rehired with CETA funds. Cincinnati cut 102 jobs to make a $113 million budget work but was seeking CETA funds to avoid laying off 533 more.

NFO Banquet Highlights April Activities

The Pickaway County National Farmers Organization month was highlighted with a businessman-farmer appreciation banquet held April 10 at the 4-H and Grange Building.

Over 300 businessmen and farmers were present for a smorgasbord roast beef dinner and to hear De Von Woodland, NFO national vice president who was the guest speaker.

Woodland related the problems of the family farmer and suggested answers to the problem. The invocation was given by Msgr. Joseph E. McGlynn. The welcome and introduction of guests was by Tom Conrad, county NFO president.

The meal was served by the Pickaway County Pamona Grange. Entertainment during the meal was provided by Karen, Greg, Becky Conrad singing "Grandma's Featherbed" and a selection of numbers by Jean and Laura Writsel and Lynda Conrad.

The regular monthly meeting was held at Five Points United Methodist Church. Commodity reports were given by Joe Carle, John Diffendall and Tom Conrad.

The May meeting will be held 8 p.m. May 18 at Five Points United Methodist Church.

with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler.

Mrs. Robert Drummond, Darby Township chairman of the 1976 Cancer Crusade, wishes to express her appreciation to the volunteers who gave of their time to work on the crusade, and also those who gave financially to further the fight against cancer.

She urges everyone to be aware of the seven warning signals listed on the brochure given by the crusaders.

Women's Committee Completing Plans For Heritage Days

The Women's Bicentennial Committee of Pickaway County met last Tuesday morning at the Pickaway Arms. Our guest craftsman was Wilma (Willie) Ehrlich, who demonstrated macrame. She brought various types of materials used and showed many completed articles. Also, upon request, she gave a history of The Gallery on Main Street.

The business portion of the meeting was spent in finalizing plans for the upcoming Heritage Days, June 5 and 6 to be held at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. All the women's clubs, civic organizations, and every interested woman in Pickaway County is having a bazaar at the coliseum from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Also featured in the coliseum will be many colonial craft demonstrations and displays, food booths, an old fashioned bake shop and much more. A cakewalk will be scheduled every half hour, with cakes donated by the best cake bakers in Pickaway County. A bicentennial afghan will be raffled. An old fashioned ice cream social is being planned.

Anyone interested in helping with this event may come to the next meeting planned for 9:30 a.m., May 25, at Pickaway Arms. Featured at this meeting will be Linda Brown, a student at Logan Elm High School, who will be demonstrating spinning on a small spinning wheel.

AFS Discusses Student Exchange Elects Officers

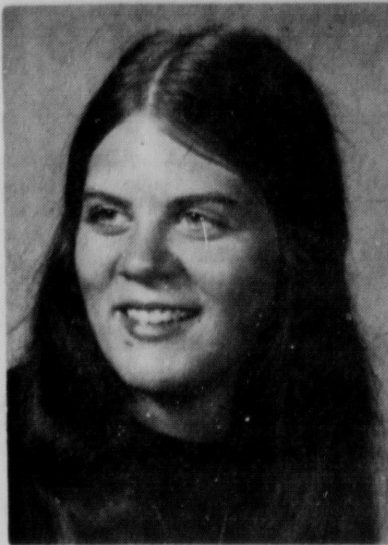

American Field Service met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schneider, Meadow Lane. All remaining business concerning Feysi Serim, the present student here from Turkey, was concluded. It was unanimously agreed his time spent here had made the first year of sponsorship successful and agreed he was a delightful introduction to the exchange program.

Word has been received that the student next year will be Miss Susan Rush from New Zealand. She will reside with the Robert Schneider family. The initial financial support for this student has been funded by contributions and profits from the International Dinner held in February. More money is needed to continue the program. Anyone interested in contributing may do so by contacting Joe Tomlinson.

New officers elected are: Mrs. D. Michael Woodward, president; Robert Schneider, vice president; Mrs. Phillip Leahy, secretary; Joe Tomlinson, treasurer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frericks, student liaison.

The next meeting will be held May 25 in the home of Paula Woodward, Route 5.

Bake Sale To Aid Children To Learn

Circleville Junior Women's Club is sponsoring a bake sale May 8 in front of the J. C. Penney Store from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. There will be a large assortment of cakes, coffee cakes, brownies, pies, cookies and cupcakes.

Proceeds from the sale go to the association for Children With Learning Disabilities. This year the Junior Women prepared a Learning Disabilities Center in the Pickaway County Public Library and bought books for the center, to be used by the public.

Through this bake sale the club hopes to add teaching materials to the center for the use of children, parents and teachers.

Mrs. Marion's Class Holds 45th Mother-Daughter Banquet

Mrs. Marion's Class of Community United Methodist Church held its 45th annual Mother-Daughter Banquet Monday at Wardell's Party Home. The tables were decorated in red, white and blue, and the theme used was "Happy Birthday America."

Mrs. Della Wertman was toast-mistress. The program opened with the members and guests singing "The National Anthem" and repeating The Pledge to the Flag of the United States of America. The hand bell choir of Community United Methodist Church, under the direction of Larry Lewis, played several selections.

The invocation was given by the Rev. David F. Frazer. The welcome was by Mrs. Virginia Lozier and the response by Mrs. Elaine Winter.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Helen Brown, president; Mrs. David Frazer, Mrs. Phyllis Kline, the only charter member; Mrs. Ray Bales, the oldest mother; Mrs. Rodney Betts, oldest mother with a class member present, and Mrs. Becky Levernier, youngest mother. Mrs. Lozier was presented a gift for attending the most banquets with her mother, Mrs. Betts.

Gifts were also presented to Mrs. Brown, president; Mrs. Betts for her birthday, from class members. Table decorations were given for door prizes. The program was closed with the singing of "God Bless America," accompanied by Mrs. Phyllis Kline at the piano.

Committees for the banquet were Olive Eitel and Peggy Smith, invitations and reservations; Della Wertman, Hazel Yeatts and Mary Hamilton, entertainment; Eloise Dunkle, Mary McClure and Phyllis Kline, food and location; Ethel McFarland and Carolyn Young, decorating and programs.

Tarlton Maps Plans For Fun Day

The village council of Tarlton Monday authorized the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department to use the village streets for Fun Day scheduled June 3-5.

In connection with the Fun Day, the council also named Steve Davis as an assistant to village policeman Gene Robinson. Robinson reported that a Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff will also be available during the festival.

The schedule of events at the festival includes the Queens Parade and judging June 3, a square dance June 4, and a big parade and water fight June 5.

There will be a baked goods contest

Woman Hurt In 2-Car Collision

A two-car collision 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Main and Pickaway Sts. resulted in injury to the driver of one of the vehicles.

Ms. Mary Ann Strawser, 44, 1870 Chippewa Drive, hit her head on the windshield and complained of a knee injury when her car collided with an auto driven by Dannie Ray Fouts, 29, 390 Avon Drive. Ms. Strawser was referred to the doctor for treatment.

According to the report of Sgt. Jim Francis, Ms. Strawser was eastbound on E. Main St. and Fouts was southbound on Pickaway St. Fouts had stopped for a car making a turn in front of him and then pulled into the intersection, where the cars collided. Both drivers claimed they had the green light.

Both vehicles suffered severe damage.

Workshop Set At PRJVS

On May 10 and 11 from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. the Distributive Education Department, with joint sponsorship by the Chillicothe and Circleville Chambers of Commerce, will conduct a workshop entitled "The Keys to Business Success."

The workshop has been developed and will be administered by the Small Business Administration. The workshop deals with such topics as Management, Organization, Financial planning, Opportunity, Business records, Sources of Capital, Insurance, and State and Federal taxes and regulations.

Local businesspeople will be presenting the specific topics. The workshop is designed for people who have recently gone into business, or people who are planning to go into business in the future. The workshop will be conducted at the vocational center.

Anyone interested may register at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center, or at the Chillicothe or Circleville Chamber of Commerce.

and bake sale also. A presale of tickets is being conducted by the members of the auxiliary and a drawing for a bicycle will be held.

Council authorized village clerk Shirley Wolfe to file an application for a law Enforcement Emergency Radio Network for the village police cruiser. Robinson said the radio would tie the village in with the Ohio Highway Patrol frequencies in case of an emergency or disaster within the village. The radio will be furnished the village at no cost.

In other action, Council briefly discussed federal revenue sharing, cleanup week, a petition of annexation of approximately 54 acres to the village, patching streets and cleaning storm sewers.

Present at the meeting were Mayor George Karshner, the clerk, council members Joan Karshner, Martha Karshner, Marvin Hartranft, Ralph Van Fossen, Charles Wolfe, Herschel Salyers.

The village council of Tarlton Monday authorized the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department to use the village streets for Fun Day scheduled June 3-5.

In connection with the Fun Day, the council also named Steve Davis as an assistant to village policeman Gene Robinson. Robinson reported that a Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff will also be available during the festival.

The schedule of events at the festival includes the Queens Parade and judging June 3, a square dance June 4, and a big parade and water fight June 5.

There will be a baked goods contest

Woman Hurt In 2-Car Collision

A two-car collision 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Main and Pickaway Sts. resulted in injury to the driver of one of the vehicles.

Ms. Mary Ann Strawser, 44, 1870 Chippewa Drive, hit her head on the windshield and complained of a knee injury when her car collided with an auto driven by Dannie Ray Fouts, 29, 390 Avon Drive. Ms. Strawser was referred to the doctor for treatment.

According to the report of Sgt. Jim Francis, Ms. Strawser was eastbound on E. Main St. and Fouts was southbound on Pickaway St. Fouts had stopped for a car making a turn in front of him and then pulled into the intersection, where the cars collided. Both drivers claimed they had the green light.

Both vehicles suffered severe damage.

and bake sale also. A presale of tickets is being conducted by the members of the auxiliary and a drawing for a bicycle will be held.

Council authorized village clerk Shirley Wolfe to file an application for a law Enforcement Emergency Radio Network for the village police cruiser. Robinson said the radio would tie the village in with the Ohio Highway Patrol frequencies in case of an emergency or disaster within the

On May 10 and 11 from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. the Distributive Education Department, with joint sponsorship by the Chillicothe and Circleville Chambers of Commerce, will conduct a workshop entitled "The Keys to Business Success."

The workshop has been developed and will be administered by the Small Business Administration. The workshop deals with such topics as Management, Organization, Financial planning, Opportunity, Business records, Sources of Capital, Insurance, and State and Federal taxes and regulations.

Local businesspeople will be presenting the specific topics. The workshop is designed for people who have recently gone into business, or people who are planning to go into business in the future. The workshop will be conducted at the vocational center.

Anyone interested may register at the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center, or at the Chillicothe or Circleville Chamber of Commerce.

village. The radio will be furnished the village at no cost.

In other action, Council briefly discussed federal revenue sharing, cleanup week, a petition of annexation of approximately 54 acres to the village, patching streets and cleaning storm sewers.

Present at the meeting were Mayor George Karshner, the clerk, council members Joan Karshner, Martha Karshner, Marvin Hartranft, Ralph Van Fossen, Charles Wolfe, Herschel Salyers.

SHORT VAN — Deputy James Deal fills out a report on an accident that occurred when a towed van belonging to Tommy A. Short broke loose and went out of control on Route 104 near Canal Road Tuesday afternoon. Short received minor injuries in the crash.

Broken Tow Chain Causes Unusual Highway Accident

A van being towed by Charles W. Brown, 44, 305 W. Mound St., was wrecked when the chain connecting the two vehicles broke and the van spun out of control on Route 104 at 3:04 p.m. Tuesday.

According to investigating deputy sheriff the vehicles were moving north on the road, just south of Canal Road when the chain broke causing the van, occupied by Tommy A. Short, 18, 135 E. Union St., to go out of control. The van went off the right side of the roadway for 45 feet, then crossed the roadway on its side for 33 feet causing it to flip on its top and go 18 feet in that position off the west side of the roadway.

The vehicle was listed as a total loss of $700. Short received abrasions and contusions to his face. He was taken to Berger Hospital where he was treated and released.

Michael W. Phillips, 23, London, was involved in a single-car accident on State Route 56 near the London Road intersection 7:20 a.m. Wednesday.

According to Sheriff's Deputy Timothy S. Hasselbring, Phillips apparently began to pass a van when his car went off the left side of the road and traveled through two rods of fence and into a corn field owned by the Dunlop Company of Williamsport.

A passenger in the Phillips vehicle, Charles E. Deberry, 24, London, complained of chest injuries and was referred to his doctor.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Does Her Filing Under 'Marvin'

DEAR ABBY: I am the bookkeeper for a business that maintains a small office staff.

Our office manager (let's call him "Marvin") is a middle-aged family man. The boss's secretary (let's call her "Sissy") is a shapely young single woman.

Since Sissy came to work here, she and Marvin have been spending a lot of time together in the file room with the door locked!

What they do is their business, but I'm tired of covering for them when the boss comes looking for Sissy.

I think it's unfair of my co-workers to put me in this awkward position, but I am too embarrassed to even discuss it with them. What do you suggest?

NERVOUS IN ALBANY

DEAR NERVOUS: Get over your embarrassment long enough to tell Sissy that the next time the boss comes looking for her, you will tell him to look in the file room under "Marvin."

DEAR ABBY: My husband says "Ask Abby," so here goes.

When we go to parties where there is dancing and I am asked to dance, I always accept because I love to dance. However, my husband, who is a wonderful dancer and a very handsome man, just sits there.

I am embarrassed to see the wife of the man who has asked me to dance sitting while my husband sits. He says he doesn't enjoy dancing with anyone but me.

What do you think, Abby? As a matter of etiquette, should I refuse dances with other men if my husband doesn't dance with their wives? Or should my husband dance even if he doesn't enjoy it?

LIKES TO DANCE

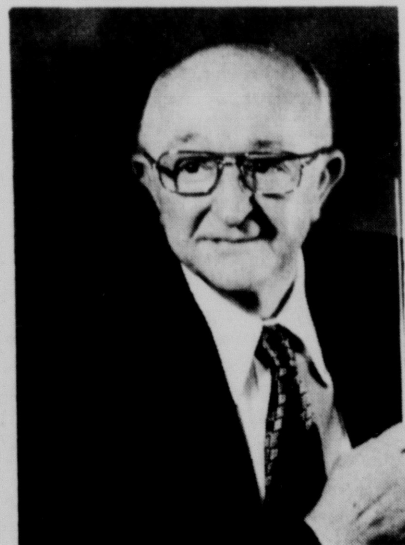

DEAR LIKES: Your husband should dance with the wife of the man who has asked you to dance. He's being rude to sit.

DEAR ABBY: This is for that woman who was "going crazy" because her house was always a mess no matter how hard she worked to keep it tidy.

I have a husband, three children and two grandchildren. I always believed that a house should be lived in. My husband and sons work on motors and they get pretty greasy, but I don't care. My daughter loves to paint with oils and you can't tell the color of any towel I have between the grease and oil paint.

When my grandchildren are here, I give them the run of the place. My sister-in-law said I was crazy because last winter I put the sandbox right in the middle of my kitchen. It made sort of a mess, but the baby was quiet, and I didn't mind sweeping up the sand.

Brobst Sets Last Concert

FRED E. BROBST

Fred Brobst, band director in the Teays Valley School District will make his final concert appearance this Friday night at 8 p.m. At that time, the Teays Valley junior and senior high school bands will present their annual spring concert at the high school auditorium.

Featured in the concert will be a French horn quartet and a senior brass quintet. This concert is open to the public free of charge.

The bands will be under the direction of Brobst and Duane Corbett.

Brobst will be retiring from his teaching career at the end of this school year after 45 years of teaching. He graduated from West High School in Columbus and attended college at Capital University and Ohio State University.

He taught at Ashville High School in the mid 1930's and then taught at Capital University for over 30 years. Brobst returned to Teays Valley and has been teaching there for the past nine years.

Deputies Report Stable Mishap, Three Thefts

Pickaway County sheriff's deputies investigated a personal injury accident and three thefts yesterday.

John Bowling, 29, Logan, was injured when a horse he was riding reared up and fell over backwards on him 7:04 p.m. Tuesday at the Chet Yapels' stables on Route 56. He was treated for injuries to the groin area and left leg at Berger Hospital and then released.

Floyd Estep 12225 SR 56 East notified the sheriff's office of a grand theft that occurred at a residence from which he was moving. The theft occurred between 2:30 p.m. Monday and 10 p.m. Tuesday. According to Deputy J. Phillip Brown, the culprits apparently entered by kicking or pushing in the back door. Nothing was left in the house at the time except two sweepers which were taken. The sweepers, an electric and a manual one are valued at $220.

Willard L. Speakman, 10745 Sr 56 East, reported that thieves broke off the hose on a 275-gallon gasoline tank and siphoned 100 gallons from the top of the tank. According to Deputy Richard L. Phillips, the bottom outlet was locked, but the top outlet to the tank was not. Value of the gas is $55.90. Damage to the hose was listed at $8.

Bob's One Stop, Rte. 1, New Holland, was the scene of another crime. Owner Bob B. Bogard, Clarksburg, reported burglars stole eight bundles of pre-packaged firewood valued at $12 from in front of his store located on Route 207 south of the Deer Creek boat ramp.

According to Deputy Dan A. Dewey, the incident occurred between 9:55 p.m. Monday and 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

HIGH STREET PTB

The High Street Parents, Teachers, Boosters held their final meeting of the year on Monday, May 3 in the multi-purpose room.

The business meeting was conducted by the chairman and co-chairman, Mrs. William Hickey and Mrs. Denny Hamilton. Reports were given by committee chairman and plans were made for the school picnic.

Election of officers for the 1976-77 school year were held with the following results: Mrs. Denny Hamilton, chairman; Mrs. David Caudill, co-chairman; Mrs. Leighton McFerrer, secretary; and Mrs. Timothy Stonerock, treasurer. Mrs. Eleanor Flierl spoke to the group in regard to the RIF book program sponsored by the American Assn. of Women's Club. The business meeting was adjourned and the program followed.

The Circleville High School Tigerettes, under the direction of Susan Simison, did several routines.

The sixth grade band played several numbers directed by Mrs. Gertrude Young, band instructor.

Recognition was given to students winning honors and awards the past year. First to be honored were members of High St. 1st string and 2nd string basketball teams. The following were members who played and won the city-wide Gray-Y tournament; Tommy Tomlinson, Luke McConnell, Sam McCoskey, Scott Foll, Tim Thoma, Wesley Hart, Victor Riffle, Kevin Hamilton, Mike Little and Gary Bigham. Tommy Tomlinson also won the trophy for the Tri State Pass and Dribble Contest.

Three students in the fourth grade were honored for an essay contest sponsored by the Central Ohio Branch of the Central Ohio Lung Association, they were: Carmen Adkins, first; Cheryl Pairan, third; and Luke McConnell, fourth. The contest was open to any fourth grade student in the city and county schools.

Brian Speakman, a sixth grader received Honorable Mention in the Bicentennial Essay Contest sponsored by the Pickaway County Board of Realtors.

Ted Smith, fifth grade and Denise Lester sixth grade, won certificates for being the superior spellers in their rooms in the Citizen-Journal Spelling contest.

The sixth grade class was honored as this is their last year at High St. Miss Updyke, principal, and Mrs. Susa, teacher, presented certificates to each member of the class. Mrs. Victor Riffle, PTB member, presented silver charms with their initials to each member of the class.

Mrs. Edward Tomlinson, and her committee, served refreshments to the honored class and members of the PTB.

The staff members of the school presented gifts by the PTB.

Prior to the meeting, parents and friends toured the building and viewed the art work of the students.

Medicaid Dilemma Unresolved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A joint legislative committee studying Ohio's Medicaid payments dilemma will decide Thursday whether to recommend a further delay in cuts planned for nursing homes and other services in the indigent health care program.

Sen. Harry Meshe, D-33 Youngstown, and other members of the Senate-House committee said they plan to make the decision after obtaining further information from welfare and budget officials along with representatives of the state auditor's office.

Tuesday, at its organizational meeting, the committee held discussions with regard to what caused Medicaid deficits that could range anywhere from $17 million to $47 million for the current fiscal year ending June 30 and from $60 to $80 million more in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee indicated it would recommend that cuts planned for May 15 be deferred until June 15 if possible solutions to the problem can be found. The legislature comes back from a spring recess June 9, and would be able to act within the 30-day extension, it was explained.

Richard G. Sheridan, director of the Legislative Budget Office, said discrepancies as to the amounts needed, at least for this fiscal year, resulted from revised estimates of former Welfare Director Raymond McKenna.

He told the committee McKenna originally said he would need an extra $17 million beyond the $421 million the legislature appropriated for health care for fiscal 1976 but later increased the amount from $17 million to nearly $47 million. In each instance, the additional amounts were what McKenna said were needed to prevent cuts in nursing home payments, Sheridan said.

The LBO official said McKenna, ousted by the Senate last week through its refusal to confirm his appointment, "didn't adequately explain the jump of $30 million." Welfare officials were requested to appear at Thursday's meeting to try to clarify the situation.

As for the upcoming fiscal year, Sheridan said the shortage in health care funds will depend on how the department wants to allocate $128 million in still unappropriated funds. That money was vetoed out of the 1976-1977 budget act by Rhodes who objected to an attempt by the legislature to leave its allocation up to the controlling board, controlled by Democrats.

McKenna requested that $40 million of the amount be added to health care outlays to apply against an expected $120 million health care deficit next year, cutting the shortfall to $80 million. However some law makers want to give $60 million extra to health care next year, further reducing it to $60 million.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Does Her Filing Under 'Marvin'

DEAR ABBY: I am the bookkeeper for a business that maintains a small office staff.

Our office manager (let's call him "Marvin") is a middle-aged family man. The boss's secretary (let's call her "Sissy") is a shapely young single woman.

Since Sissy came to work here, she and Marvin have been spending a lot of time together in the file room with the door locked!

What they do is their business, but I'm tired of covering for them when the boss comes looking for Sissy.

I think it's unfair of my co-workers to put me in this awkward position, but I am too embarrassed to even discuss it with them. What do you suggest?

NERVOUS IN ALBANY
DEAR NERVOUS: Get over your embarrassment long enough to tell Sissy that the next time the boss comes looking for her, you will tell him to look in the file room under "Marvin."

DEAR ABBY: My husband says "Ask Abby," so here goes.

Deputies Report Stable Mishap, Three Thefts

Pickaway County sheriff's deputies investigated a personal injury accident and three thefts yesterday.

John Bowling, 29, Logan, was injured when a horse he was riding reared up and fell over backwards on him 7:04 p.m. Tuesday at the Chet Yapels' stables on Route 56. He was treated for injuries to the groin area and left leg at Berger Hospital and then released.

Floyd Estep 12225 SR 56 East notified the sheriff's office of a grand theft that occurred at a residence from which he was moving. The theft occurred between 2:30 p.m. Monday and 10 p.m. Tuesday. According to Deputy J. Phillip Brown, the culprits apparently entered by kicking or pushing in the back door. Nothing was left in the house at the time except two sweepers which were taken. The sweepers, an electric and a manual one are valued at $220.

Willard L. Speakman, 10745 Sr 56 East, reported that thieves broke off the hose on a 275-gallon gasoline tank and siphoned 100 gallons from the top of the tank. According to Deputy Richard L. Phillips, the bottom outlet was locked, but the top outlet to the tank was not. Value of the gas is $55.90. Damage to the hose was listed at $8.

Bob's One Stop, Rte. 1, New Holland, was the scene of another crime. Owner Bob B. Bogard, Clarksburg, reported burglars stole eight bundles of pre-packaged firewood valued at $12 from in front of his store located on Route 207 south of the Deer Creek boat ramp.

According to Deputy Dan A. Dewey, the incident occurred between 9:55 p.m. Monday and 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Comedy Store Proves Humor Not Easy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — On any Monday, you can see how hard it is to be funny.

Monday night is tryout night at the Comedy Store, a Hollywood night spot devoted to the art of the standup comic. Anyone who imagines he can make other people laugh may mount the stage for five minutes of glory, if the laughs come — or humiliation, when a deadening, squirming silence pervades the room.

With posters of Charlie Chaplin, Joe E. Brown, Laurel and Hardy, and W.

C. Fields looking on sympathetically, a series of aspiring comics try out their routines before the patient, if critical, Monday night audience.

The surroundings are understated. The Comedy Store isn't a glamorous cabaret, but it provides the novice, yet-to-be-discovered or overlooked comic with an authentic luxury: a place to bomb.

"Vaudeville is dead," says Tom Dreesan, a comic from Chicago who has started on his own after working with a partner for years. "There's no place to be bad. And a comic needs some place to try out his material.

"This is a place to be bad."

When a comic gets a chance to appear on the Johnny Carson or Merv Griffin television show, he has to be good. He can't try out his material on the TV audience because he might never be heard from again. So, established comics such as Jimmy Walker, Richard Pryor, Gabe Kaplan and David Brenner come to the Comedy Store to try out new material or to hone their acts for a TV appearance or record cutting date.

But, Dreesan says, the comics try hard even on Mondays because "it's never easy to bomb." And in addition to the usual array of comedy aficionados and Sunset Strip night people, there are often talent agents in the audience.

Mitzi Shore, a petite woman with dark hair, a friendly smile and an easy, warm laugh, is owner, impresario and psychological counselor at the Comedy Store.

Big Fire Levels Graphics Plant

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Firemen today were trying to determine the cause of a $400,000 fire that destroyed the Arnold Graphics Co. plant in Fairfield on Tuesday.

Firemen said the roof of the two-year-old plant collapsed and firemen were unable to get to hundreds of rolls of computer paper stored in the one story building.

Charles Fahs, manager of the plant with 41 employees, said the plant was a total loss.

The cause was not immediately determined. There were no injuries.

Comedy Store Proves Humor Not Easy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — On any Monday, you can see how hard it is to be funny.

Monday night is tryout night at the Comedy Store, a Hollywood night spot devoted to the art of the standup comic. Anyone who imagines he can make other people laugh may mount the stage for five minutes of glory, if the laughs come — or humiliation, when a deadening, squirming silence pervades the room.

With posters of Charlie Chaplin, Joe E. Brown, Laurel and Hardy, and W.

C. Fields looking on sympathetically, a series of aspiring comics try out their routines before the patient, if critical, Monday night audience.

The surroundings are understated. The Comedy Store isn't a glamorous cabaret, but it provides the novice, yet-to-be-discovered or overlooked comic with an authentic luxury: a place to bomb.

"Vaudeville is dead," says Tom Dreesan, a comic from Chicago who has started on his own after working with a partner for years. "There's no place to be bad. And a comic needs some place to try out his material.

"This is a place to be bad."

When a comic gets a chance to appear on the Johnny Carson or Merv Griffin television show, he has to be good. He can't try out his material on the TV audience because he might never be heard from again. So, established comics such as Jimmy Walker, Richard Pryor, Gabe Kaplan and David Brenner come to the Comedy Store to try out new material or to hone their acts for a TV appearance or record cutting date.

But, Dreesan says, the comics try hard even on Mondays because "it's never easy to bomb." And in addition to the usual array of comedy aficionados and Sunset Strip night people, there are often talent agents in the audience.

Mitzi Shore, a petite woman with dark hair, a friendly smile and an easy, warm laugh, is owner, impresario and psychological counselor at the Comedy Store.

Big Fire Levels Graphics Plant

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Firemen today were trying to determine the cause of a $400,000 fire that destroyed the Arnold Graphics Co. plant in Fairfield on Tuesday.

Firemen said the roof of the two-year-old plant collapsed and firemen were unable to get to hundreds of rolls of computer paper stored in the one story building.

Charles Fahs, manager of the plant with 41 employees, said the plant was a total loss.

The cause was not immediately determined. There were no injuries.

The Pickaway County Family YMCA will be giving the Presidents Physical Fitness Test, evaluation 2, Saturday, May 8, starting at 9 a.m. This test is free to all Pickaway County youth, fifth grade through high school, including all Gra-Y and Tri-Gra-Y clubs.

The test consists of six skills: pull-ups (boys), flexed arm hang (girls), sit-ups, shuttle-run, standing broad jump, 50 yard dash, and 600 yard run or walk. All participants must achieve 85 per cent of each skill to pass, but an achievement certificate will be awarded to those who make 50 per cent or more on the test.

Tests will be given by Joan Eller, Physical Fitness Director, at the YMCA, 151 E. Franklin St., from 9 a.m. to noon.

County Receives $10,711 Grant

Gov. James A. Rhodes has announced approval of a $10,711 grant to Pickaway County for communications recording equipment.

The project provides tape machines to record all radio and telephone messages through the Sheriff's Communications Center.

This grant will be supplemented locally with $1,886.

The State of Ohio awarded the grant under the federally approved provisions of Ohio's $21 million Comprehensive Criminal Justice Plan for 1976.

Space Age Boom Town Now Fading Away

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — This space age boom town, once the site of revels rivaling those of ancient Rome, now is pretty much of a drag.

The launch parties and splashdown bashes, rituals marking the successful start and end of space missions during the heyday of American space exploration, are gone. Bureaucrats newly sensitive to any suggestion of impropriety have ruled parties out — and in other ways have changed this community's social life.

Shortly after the spotlight of national publicity hit the "hunting lodge socials" afforded some of the nation's military brass by certain armament lobbyists, space agency officials issued a "clarification of regulations concerning socialization."

In essence, the "clarification" puts the clamps on space workers accepting the hospitality of people representing firms which supply the space program's hardware.

The new policy handed down by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration earlier this year in a revised edition of the Federal Register includes sections prohibiting space agency employees accepting "any gift, gratuity, entertainment, favors, loans, transportation, accommodations" from space contractors.

Boating Clinic Scheduled

The Columbus Area Chapter, American Red Cross is announcing a Boating Clinic to be held May 21-23 at Delaware State Park, Delaware, sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources and the Red Cross.

Courses to be offered are Basic Canoeing, Basic Sailing, Basic Power Boating and Water Skiing, American Red Cross basic certificates will be issued to those who successfully complete the course.

Those who wish may camp at Delaware State Park or stay at a nearby motel.

Information sheets and application forms are available at the Pickaway County Chapter, 167 Watt Street.

There are exceptions to cover the couple of beers shared by old friends and other extenuating circumstances, but the new restrictions publicly are called unfortunate and privately cursed as ridiculous by space agency veterans.

Following a communications satellite launch last December, RCA hosted a typical "y'all come" party — and more than 400 RCA and government officials attended.

After a March 26 launch, RCA held a similar hoedown but — on the advice of attorneys — did not invite NASA officials or members of the launch team. About 150 RCA workers and their wives attended.

Men And Women In Military Service

Army Private Kenneth H. Moss, 20, whose wife, Debrah, lives at 67 Walnut St., Kingston, completed reconnaissance training April 15 at the Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received seven weeks of training in the methods of scouting and patrolling, with emphasis on the operation of Army jeeps on rugged terrain. Instruction was also given in camouflage techniques, concealment in natural terrain and handling of weapons.

Pvt. Moss entered the Army in December 1975.

He is a 1975 graduate of Zane Trace High School.

The daughter of an Ashville, Ohio, couple has been assigned to Malmstrom AFB, Mont., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

First Lieutenant Linda A. Warner, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Warner of Route 2, is an open mess manager with the 341st Combat Support Group.

The 1963 graduate of Teays Valley High School previously served at Edwards AFB, Calif.

She earned her B.S. degree in 1968 at Ohio State University and was commissioned in 1973 upon completion of Officer Training School, Lackland AFB, Tex.

A recent party for which hosts prepared and stocked up for several hundred guests drew about 25 festive guests.

"I think it is unfortunate that a rule is applied to something like a launch party which is designed really to show appreciation for hard work and extra performance," said Phillip Schneider, president-elect of RCA American Communications Inc.

"In parties like these, we are just trying to say thank you, we are not trying to buy anything. I agree there is need to establish and follow reasonable standards," he said.

"I think it is wrong to accept or give large gifts. But I think there ought to be a reasonable interpretation. I think a launch party is beneficial to the maintenance of esprit de corps in a group where we are trying to develop an integrated team, not just a collection of contractors," Schneider said.

It's hard to find space agency workers who will knock the new restrictions publicly.

A number of engineers contend that the parties and other associations with contractors are harmless.

"I don't feel it is right. There is no way on this earth that I could help get anyone a contract if I wanted to," said one engineer who asked to remain anonymous.

"The people who would have told headquarters to go to hell 10 years ago are now running scared because of the scarcity of positions in the space business, and in jobs in general," said a long-time NASA observer.

Robert Pickard, space agency spacecraft project manager at Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., was one of the few officials willing to comment publicly on the restrictions. He called the rules on home entertainment "a horrible invasion of privacy."

John Clark, director of Goddard, said he thinks "the government should be more selective about the rules that should be enforced."

"I think the violations which triggered this were obvious breeches in common sense," Clark said, "but there are so many government-contractor relationships like launch parties which have great potential for good, and no potential for misconduct. These parties are a very worthwhile tradition, and have been very good for morale."

Kennedy Space Center director Lee Sherer considers some of the changes "unfortunate."

"Launch parties are traditional and have had a very good effect on keeping the team concept," Sherer said. "But the conflict of interest pendulum has swung to a considerably different side than what it was. As the result of the excesses of very few people, it has necessitated the tightening up of regulations."

"You've got to draw the line somewhere and right now the line is very far over to one side. The requirement is not to accept anything from contractors. So we're going to live with that."

They may live with it, but many space agency officials aren't happy.

"It used to be that the definition of a gratuity was something you couldn't drink, couldn't eat or couldn't go to bed with in a 24-hour period," said one official. "Now you can't even invite a couple of guests to dinner for fear of being criticized."

Teays Valley Takes Thriller From Tigers

Teays Valley tallied twice in the bottom of the second inning and then held off Circleville to gain a 2-1 decision over the Tigers Tuesday on the Vikings' diamond.

Eric Graves was tough for the Vikings hurling five-hit ball, walking two and striking out one.

Jerry Strawser also turned in a fine mound performance for the Tigers as he gave up three hits, two walks and fanned four.

The Vikings two runs came when Rusty Rathburn walked, Jim Baxter singled and both raced home on a Circleville error.

The Tigers lone tally was scored by Biff Bumgarner after he had singled in the top of the sixth.

Greg Prince, Duane Keller and Baxter each had a single to account for all the Viking hits. Mark Messick accounted for both the Teays Valley RBIs.

Keith Sanders, Brent Mancini, Bumgarner, Bob Fuller and Strawser all had a single for the Tigers. Fuller had the RBI for Circleville.

Both teams played good ball as Circleville committed one error and Teays Valley misplayed the ball twice.

Teays Valley is now 6-14 for the season and 4-5 in the Metro League. They will be at Logan Elm 4 p.m. today.

Circleville is 10-6 overall and 6-3 in the South Central Ohio League, currently in second place behind Hillsboro. They will host Greenfield 4:30 p.m. Friday. Today's scheduled game with Washington C. H. has been rescheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday.

Bengals Sign Griffin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archie Griffin, turning his back on a better offer from Canada, Tuesday signed a longterm contract with the Cincinnati Bengals that reportedly makes the two-time Heisman Trophy winner the highest-paid member of the National Football League club.

"The dream is to play in the NFL," said the 5-foot-9 tailback who has been hailed by Coach Woody Hayes as the greatest player in Ohio State's rich football history.

"I'm not a millionaire, but I'm happy. I'm anxious to get started. I didn't want this contract thing hanging over my head," said Griffin, disclosing that he spurned a two-year, $290,000 contract from Montreal of the Canadian Football League.

Griffin, one of Cincinnati's two first round draft choices, signed after a heated negotiating session that "got pretty tense," according to his brother, Jim, who assisted in the contract talks.

Mike Brown, assistant general manager of the Bengals, declined to specify the terms, but called the contract "a good one." It is believed Griffin signed for at least three years at an estimated $100,000 a year.

Quarterback Ken Anderson, the NFL's first back-to-back passing champion in 15 years, is reportedly the top-paid Bengal with a salary in the $100,000-a-year range.

Griffin, a slippery runner who smashed the all-time collegiate mark by gaining more than 100 yards in his last 31 regular season games, was considered too small by many pro scouts.

Five other backs were drafted ahead of Griffin, who was the 24th player taken in the first round.

Asked about the "too small" rap, Griffin replied: "I welcome the challenge. My high school team was considered too small, too and we won the championship two years in a row."

Bill Johnson, the Bengals new head coach who replaced veteran Paul Brown, said the Cincinnati staff scouted Griffin thoroughly over four

Suns Seek Rebounds

OAKLAND (AP) — The Phoenix Suns must assert some strength under the boards if they are to give the Golden State Warriors a serious test in their National Basketball Association playoff series.

And the way Rick Barry was shooting in the series opener, a 128-103 Warriors' victory Sunday, presents the Suns with a dilemma.

"He shoots from far outside, and that means Garfield Heard or I have to stay close to him and can't help out much under the boards," said Curtis Perry, the 6-foot-7 forward, analyzing a problem the Suns face again tonight in the second game of the best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Warriors had 21 offensive rebounds in the opening game, compared to 11 for Phoenix, and outrebounded the Suns over-all by a decisive 55-45 margin. Golden State centers Clifford Ray and George Johnson combined for nine offensive rebounds, converting several into points.

Barry didn't give his big teammates too many opportunities, however. He made 17 of 31 field goal attempts while scoring 38 points.

Toledo Tops Richmond In IL Action, 10-9

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ben Heise, pinch-hitting in the ninth inning, belted a grand-slam homer Tuesday evening to lift Toledo to a 10-9 International League baseball victory over host Richmond.

It was Heise's first homer of the season. Danby Osborn, the fourth Brave pitcher of the night, was the victim. Richmond's Jeff Geach had two homers.

In Norfolk, Bob Galasso scattered five runs and Jim Hutto had a homer and a double to lead Rochester to a 6-2 victory over host Tidewater.

CHS Reserves Nip Lions In Fray, 8-7

Both teams had big first innings in a battle which saw Circleville's reserves defeat visiting Washington C.H., 8-7, Tuesday.

Washington opened the scoring with five runs in the top of the first but the Tigers came roaring back in the bottom of frame to push six tallies across the plate.

The Blue Lions scored single markers in the second and third innings while the Tigers had lone tallies in the second and scored the winning run in the bottom of the fifth.

Scott Sanders went all the way for Circleville as he gave up six hits, walked eight and fanned 10.

Ross hurled for Washington C.H., allowing nine hits, seven walks and struck out six.

George Snyder led Circleville with a triple and single, Sanders, Alan Ranck and Chuck Wellman each rapped a pair of singles and Joe Mogan slashed a one-bagger. Snyder had three RBIs.

Ross had a triple for the Blue Lions, Hargo cracked a double and single, Terrell had a pair of singles and Cauley had a one-bagger.

Circleville is now 9-5 and will be at Greenfield 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Cummins Lumber Captures LWBA Trio Tournament

Cummins Lumber (Ruth Mitcham, Helen Styers, Shirley Thompson) compiled 2058 pins to take top honors in the Lancaster Women's Bowling Association Trio Tournament at Lincoln Lanes.

Finishing second with 2041 pins was Don-Hay-Wils (Ruth Donley, Mary Haynes, Louise Wilson) and The Ten Pins (Brenda Johnson, Judy Kempton, Marilyn Woltz) were third with 2029.

Rounding out the top ten teams were 3 M & M's (Fern Conrad, Ann Merriman, Roberta Arledge), 2009; Jim Houseman Ford (Stella Fausnaugh, Georgia Gaines, Pamela Manbevers), 1993; Lucky Ladies (Charlotte Kane, Dixie Bigham, Creta Morehead), 1979; The Three Strikers (Becky Downs, Lucy Lovett, Sharon McCollister), 1978; The Loony Goons (Joyce Byerly, Linda Woods, Izzy Ruff), 1971; The High Rollers (Veldren Smith, Carol Boden, Edie Kennard), 1958; The Karuno's (Kate Lavender, Ruby Johnson, Nola Stocker), 1956.

Genella Clark and Shirley Thompson tied for high individual game with 231. Creta Morehead rolled 791 for high individual series and Lucy Ladies took high team game with 567.

Mets Defeat Reds, 5-2

NEW YORK (AP) — It was your basic ticklish situation.

Seventh inning. Bases loaded, one out. At the plate, Cincinnati's Johnny Bench.

And how did reliever Skip Lockwood of the New York Mets feel about striking out Mr. Bench in the middle of that mess? "Euphoric," confessed Lockwood. "I'd never faced Bench before, but then again, he'd never faced me."

Mike Lum was next.

Three more strikes and the Mets were out of the mess.

Lockwood added two more strikeouts in the eighth, but there was some more tickling in the ninth.

Protecting a 5-2 lead, Lockwood surrendered a leadoff single to Ken Griffey and then walked Joe Morgan. It was nervous time in the Mets' dugout and on the mound.

"I was overthrowing and then I reversed it and was underthrowing," Lockwood explained. He recovered to get Dan Driessen on a pop fly and his old friend, Bench, on a fly ball. But Lum looped an RBI single to left field, making it 5-3, and bringing Mets Manager Joe Frazier to the mound.

"When he came out, I had a pleading look on my face," said Lockwood. "But before he got to the mound, he said, 'Don't worry, don't worry. I just want to give you a breather.'"

A walk to Cesar Geronimo loaded the bases but Frazier stayed in the dugout and Lockwood repaid the confidence, getting Dave Concepcion on a last-out ground ball and saving Tom Seaver's fourth straight victory.

And why did Frazier stay with Lockwood, even with the bases loaded?

"I've got quite a bit of confidence in him," the Mets' manager said. "He's my No. 1 man."

That's a first for Lockwood, who had bounced around the majors from Milwaukee to California and even the New York Yankees before surfacing in the Mets' bullpen.

"They had no confidence in me in Milwaukee," he said. "Two walks and I'd be in the dugout. In California, Dick Williams told me I was no good. The team across town released me."

It was at that point that Lockwood called Oakland owner Charley Finley, who gave him a job in Tucson. The Mets purchased him last summer and his 1.50 earned run average in 24 trips from the bullpen made him New York's relief ace.

The Mets scored two runs on four walks and an infield out against loser Fred Norman, 3-1, in the second inning and then Dave Kingman's 10th homer of the season made it 4-1 in the third.

After Lockwood pitched out of the seventh inning jam, preserving a 4-2 lead, Ed Kranepool's RBI-single added the final Met run in the seventh. It was Kranepool's 1,189th career hit, tops for any Met in history.

The save was the third of the season for the Mets' bullpen. All of them belong to Lockwood, and now you know why Frazier calls him his No. 1 man.

Dave Bristol, in his third stint as a major league manager, this time with the Atlanta Braves, is learning once again that the life of a big-league skipper is not an easy one.

"You die a little bit in games like this," said Bristol after his Braves blew a three-run lead and dropped their eighth consecutive decision, an 8-7 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 12 innings Tuesday night. The Braves' current losing streak is the longest the club has gone through since the franchise was moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta a decade ago.

The Braves erupted for six runs in the second inning and led 7-4 after three, but couldn't hold on, they came within one out of victory, but St. Louis tied the score with two out in the ninth and then won it in the 12th on a run-scoring double by Ted Simmons, his fourth hit of the game.

In other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6, the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the Houston Astros 5-0, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the San Francisco Giants 6-5 and the New York Mets defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-3. San Diego at Montreal was postponed because of cold weather.

St. Louis reached Atlanta starter Phil Niekro for a pair of runs in each of the first two innings. But the Braves erupted for their biggest inning of the season, scoring six runs in the third, the final three on a homer by off-season acquisition Jim Wynn.

Atlanta added another run in the third on an RBI triple by Darrel Chaney.

Niekro hit Bake McBride with a pitch in the fifth inning and balked him to second. He scored on Simmons' single. A solo homer by Simmons in the eighth made it 7-4, then with two out in the ninth pinch-hitter Mike Anderson doubled and Lou Brock followed with a run-scoring single to tie the score.

McBride, who had homered in the first inning, singled in the 12th and came home with the winning run on Simmons' double.

Dodgers 9, Cubs 6

Los Angeles posted its 10th consecutive victory and took a one-game lead in the NL West by beating the Cubs behind home runs by Henry Cruz and Ron Cey. Burt Hooton got the victory, with relief help from Mike Marshall.

Philis 5, Astros 0

Jim Lonborg, 3-0, stopped the Astros on seven hits. Bobby Tolan homered and Greg Luzinski belted a bases-clearing double to highlight the Philis' attack.

Pirates 6, Giants 5
Willie Stargell hit a two-run homer in a four-run sixth inning that helped Pittsburgh hand the Giants their eighth loss in the last nine games.

Teays Valley Takes Thriller From Tigers

Teays Valley tallied twice in the bottom of the second inning and then held off Circleville to gain a 2-1 decision over the Tigers Tuesday on the Vikings' diamond.

Eric Graves was tough for the Vikings hurling five-hit ball, walking two and striking out one.

Jerry Strawser also turned in a fine mound performance for the Tigers as he gave up three hits, two walks and fanned four.

The Vikings two runs came when Rusty Rathburn walked, Jim Baxter singled and both raced home on a Circleville error.

The Tigers lone tally was scored by Biff Bumgarner after he had singled in the top of the sixth.

Greg Prince, Duane Keller and Baxter each had a single to account for all the Viking hits. Mark Messick accounted for both the Teays Valley RBIs.

Keith Sanders, Brent Mancini, Bumgarner, Bob Fuller and Strawser all had a single for the Tigers. Fuller had the RBI for Circleville.

Both teams played good ball as Circleville committed one error and Teays Valley misplayed the ball twice.

Teays Valley is now 6-14 for the season and 4-5 in the Metro League. They will be at Logan Elm 4 p.m. today.

Circleville is 10-6 overall and 6-3 in the South Central Ohio League, currently in second place behind Hillsboro. They will host Greenfield 4:30 p.m. Friday. Today's scheduled game with Washington C. H. has been rescheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday.

Bengals Sign Griffin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archie Griffin, turning his back on a better offer from Canada, Tuesday signed a longterm contract with the Cincinnati Bengals that reportedly makes the two-time Heisman Trophy winner the highest-paid member of the National Football League club.

"The dream is to play in the NFL," said the 5-foot-9 tailback who has been hailed by Coach Woody Hayes as the greatest player in Ohio State's rich football history.

"I'm not a millionaire, but I'm happy. I'm anxious to get started. I didn't want this contract thing hanging over my head," said Griffin, disclosing that he spurned a two-year, $290,000 contract from Montreal of the Canadian Football League.

Griffin, one of Cincinnati's two first round draft choices, signed after a heated negotiating session that "got pretty tense," according to his brother, Jim, who assisted in the contract talks.

Mike Brown, assistant general manager of the Bengals, declined to specify the terms, but called the contract "a good one." It is believed Griffin signed for at least three years at an estimated $100,000 a year.

Quarterback Ken Anderson, the NFL's first back-to-back passing champion in 15 years, is reportedly the top-paid Bengal with a salary in the $100,000-a-year range.

Griffin, a slippery runner who smashed the all-time collegiate mark by gaining more than 100 yards in his last 31 regular season games, was considered too small by many pro scouts.

Five other backs were drafted ahead of Griffin, who was the 24th player taken in the first round.

Asked about the "too small" rap, Griffin replied: "I welcome the challenge. My high school team was considered too small, too and we won the championship two years in a row."

Bill Johnson, the Bengals new head coach who replaced veteran Paul Brown, said the Cincinnati staff scouted Griffin thoroughly over four years. "We know some people questioned his size," said Johnson. "But more and more the little man has made an impact in pro football. That's not a detriment at all. How far Archie goes is strictly up to him."

Griffin left Ohio State's record books in a shambles, outdistancing such legendary Buckeye greats as Howard "Hopalong" Cassady, Jim Otis, Bob Ferguson and John Brockington. He finished with 5,177 career yards, the only major college player to top 5,000 yards.

"He earned his way to the pros," said Brown, who said agreed the contract session had its critical moments.

"It wasn't one of the easiest negotiations I've been through," said the Bengals' No. 2 man.

Griffin, one of six brothers in his family of nine, said homestate ties influenced his decision to sign with Cincinnati. "I wanted to play close to my home," said the man.

He could see his first NFL action against the Green Bay Packers on July 31st in an exhibition game. Johnson said plans call for Griffin to get a cram course in the Bengals system before he reports for the College All-Star game in Chicago. That game is scheduled for July 24.

Nuggets Top N.Y. Nets; Win 127-121

DENVER (AP) — Denver Nuggets Coach Larry Brown insisted his team "learned a lot of things" after dropping the opening game of its American Basketball Association championship series with the New York Nets.

One of the lessons, obviously, was how to beat the Nets. Denver got its fast-break offense rolling in the second half and got better inside penetration with the ball to post a 127-121 victory Tuesday night and square the best-of-seven series at 1-1. Game Three will be played Thursday night in New York.

Some remedial work, however, will be necessary on how to stop New York forward Julius "Dr. J." Erving.

Erving, who scored 45 points in the opener, tossed in 48 points Tuesday night. As in the first game, Erving did pretty much what he wanted.

His 25 points in the fourth quarter set a pro basketball playoff-game record for scoring in a period, and his 37 points in the second half likewise set a pro playoff mark.

"The way he's playing now it's incredible," said Denver forward Bobby Jones, who has the unenviable task of defending Erving.

"We've tried to keep him outside, away from the basket," said Jones. "And we have to deny him the ball as much as possible. But it's tough, and he's really shooting well besides."

St. Louis reached Atlanta starter Phil Niekro for a pair of runs in each of the first two innings. But the Braves erupted for their biggest inning of the season, scoring six runs in the third, the final three on a homer by off-season acquisition Jim Wynn.

Atlanta added another run in the third on an RBI triple by Darrel Chaney.

Niekro hit Bake McBride with a pitch in the fifth inning and balked him to second. He scored on Simmons' single. A solo homer by Simmons in the eighth made it 7-6, then with two out in the ninth pinch-hitter Mike Anderson doubled and Lou Brock followed with a runscoring single to tie the score.

McBride, who had homered in the first inning, singled in the 12th and came home with the winning run on Simmons' double.

Dodgers 9, Cubs 6

Los Angeles posted its 10th consecutive victory and took a one-game lead in the NL West by beating the Cubs behind home runs by Henry Cruz and Ron Cey. Burt Hooton got the victory, with relief help from Mike Marshall.

Phils 5, Astros 0

Jim Lonborg, 3-0, stopped the Astros on seven hits. Bobby Tolan homered and Greg Luzinski belted a bases-clearing double to highlight the Phils' March.

Pirates 6, Giants 5

Willie Stargell hit a two-run homer in a four-run sixth inning that helped Pittsburgh hand the Giants their eighth loss in the last nine games.

PUBLIC NOTICE

To all Pickaway County real property owners, farmers, and renters

All Pickaway County real property has been . . . or soon will be . . . reappraised for tax purposes. Presently there are many cases in which these reappraisals have resulted in huge tax increases! This means not only higher taxes — but also higher rents.

ON JANUARY 27, 1976
WE INCORPORATED THE
NON-PROFIT OHIO COMMITTEE
AGAINST UNFAIR TAXES
(OCAUT)

Our goals are...

- FIRST: To correct the wrong already committed against you and thousands of other Ohio property owners . . . and SECOND: To see that it does not happen again!

We have asked the Ohio Legislature to enact . . . and the Governor of Ohio to approve . . . immediate legislation to correct the tragic situation in which many Pickaway County property owners find themselves.

You can help!

Support and join the committee of unjustly treated property owners by filling out the coupon below and sending your contribution of 1% of your increased taxes to the Ohio Committee Against Unfair Taxes (OCAUT), 88 East Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215. You'll be glad you did!

Act today-tomorrow may be too late
